FROM THE C.E.O.

We have always applied common sense to animal health by reducing obvious stresses and supplying the body with what it needs to repair and protect itself. We concentrate on the cause of a disease, not the symptom, and strive for maximum animal health with natural organic nutrients. Each individual farm within itself is a research farm, and we have over 44 years of research on thousands of farms. Results are the reasons we are in business today and will be tomorrow. We are looking forward to serving you so that animal husbandry is enjoyable and profitable. Try our products and observe the difference.
